

SUBJECT: Experience university life for free this summer

Dear student,

This is an exciting opportunity for you:

Applications for Sutton Trust UK Summer Schools are now open!

The Sutton Trust offers free week-long residential summer schools at 13 universities around the UK. You can choose from over 40 courses to study while living on campus and attending lectures. Get a taste of university-level academics while participating in fun activities with students like you from around the UK.

I was so worried about not fitting in, or not being the stereotypical person who applies to university. However, as soon as I arrived at the train station my worries flooded away! I found so many people exactly like me, from similar backgrounds.

This is a great opportunity for you to explore a course or a university during your summer break. You are 4x more likely to be offered a space at a Russell Group university after attending their programme.

To start your application, click here. Applications are open until Tuesday March 3rd. You can find out more information about the programme on their website.

Best wishes,
